Far away there in the sunshine are my highest aspirations. I may not reach them, but I can look up and see their beauty, believe in them, and try to follow where they lead.
--Louisa May Alcott

I am not afraid of tomorrow,
for I have seen yesterday
and I love today.
--William Allen White

Tell the world I'm out
I want to meditate
I want to learn who I am and why I'm here.
I want to meditate and think about the wonders of nature
I want to be free to feel the meaning of life.
--David Polis

You are a child of the universe, no less than the trees and stars; you have a right to be here. And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should.

Whatever you are by nature keep to it; never doubt your line of talent. Be what nature intended you for,
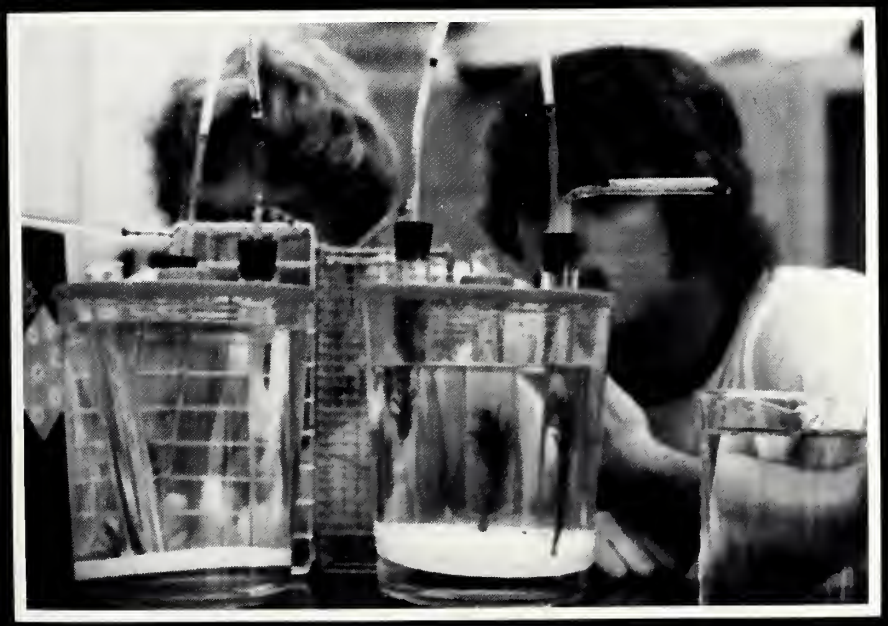
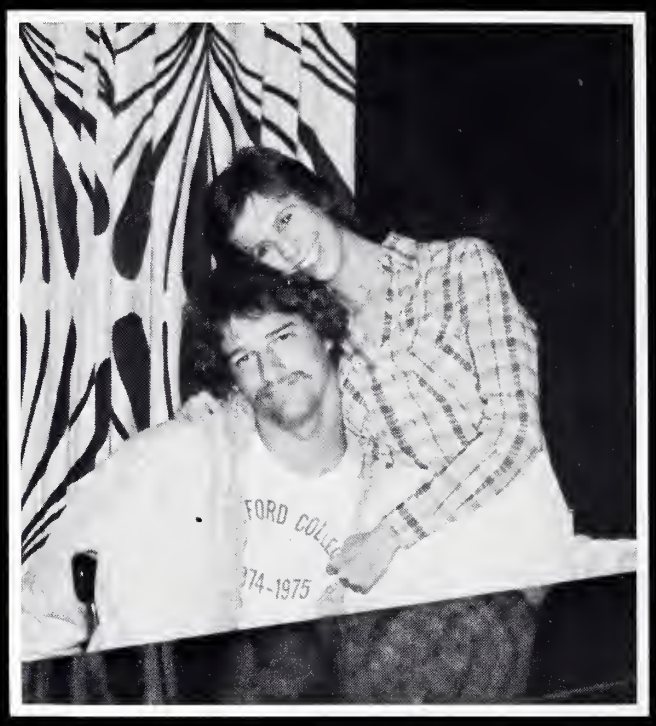
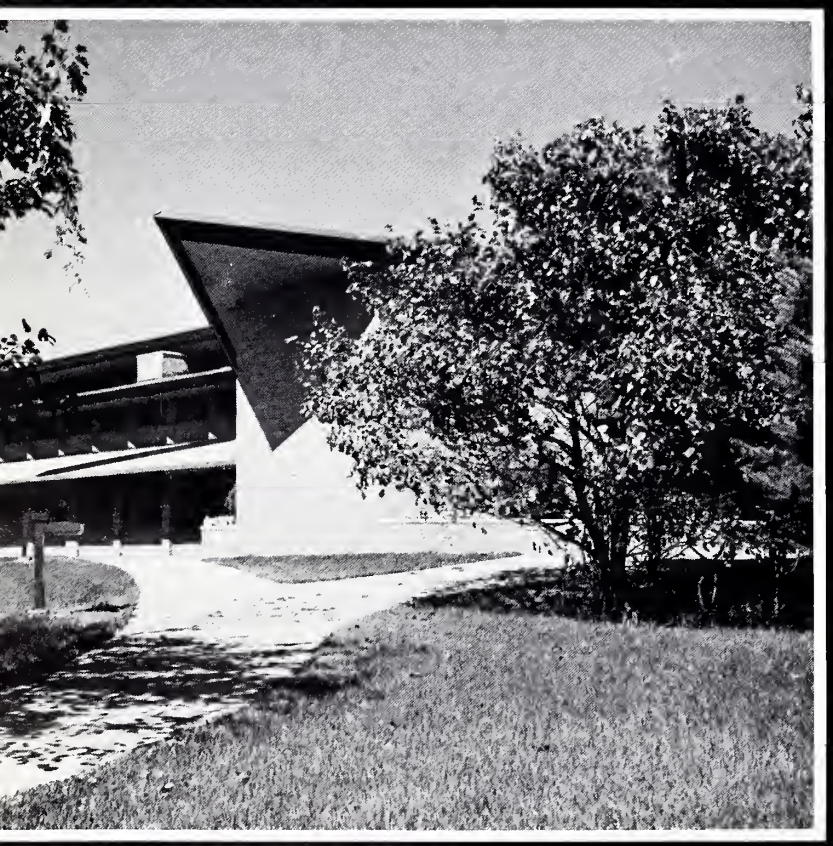
and you will succeed.
--Sydney Smith

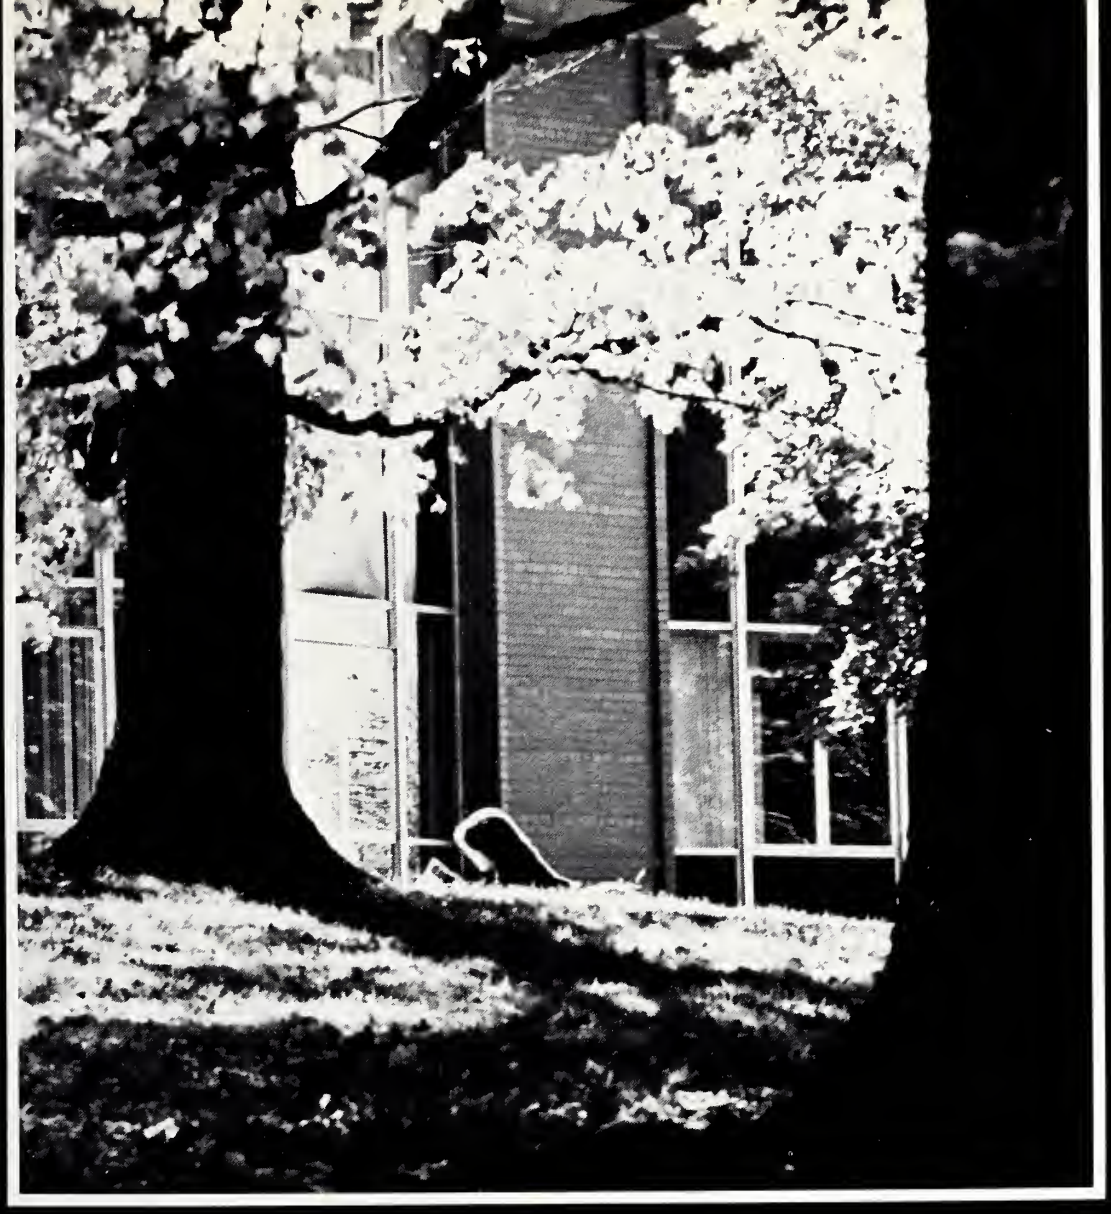
If a man does not keep pace with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer. Let him step to the music he hears, however measured or far away.
--Henry David Thoreau





One of the most important phases of maturing is that of growth from self-centering to an understanding relationship to others ... A person is not mature until he has both an ability and a willingness to see himself as one among others and to do unto those others as he would have them do to him.
--H. A. Overstreet





Life is a fragment, a moment between two eternities, influenced by all that has preceded, and to influence all that follows. The only way to illumine it is by extent of view.
--William Ellery Channing

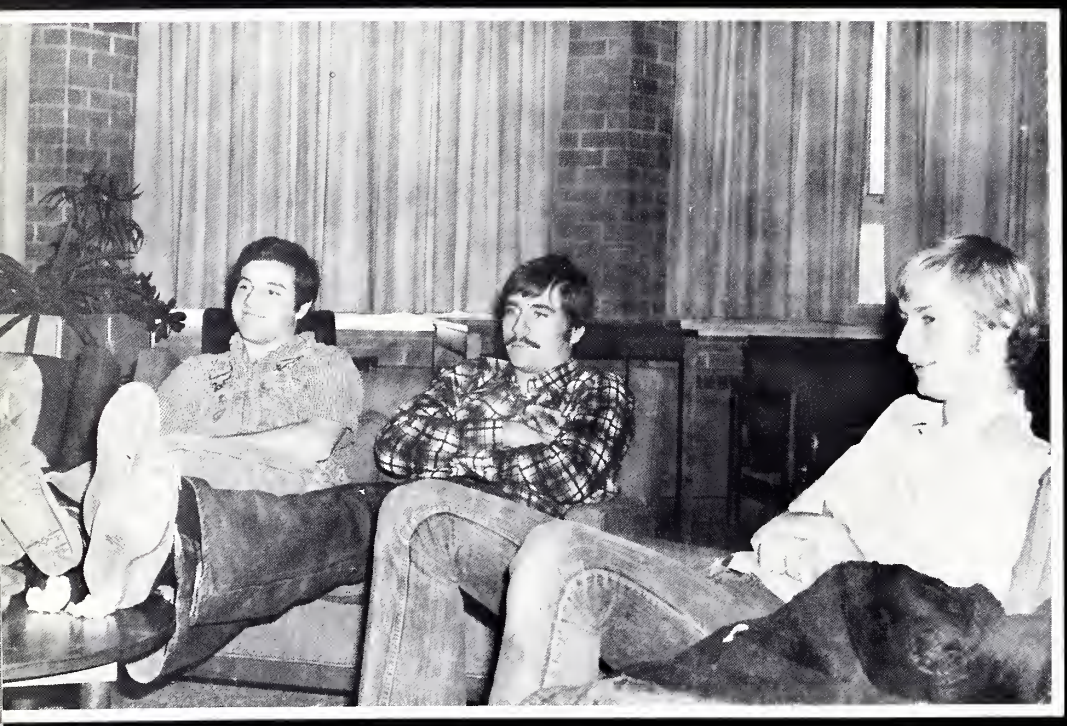
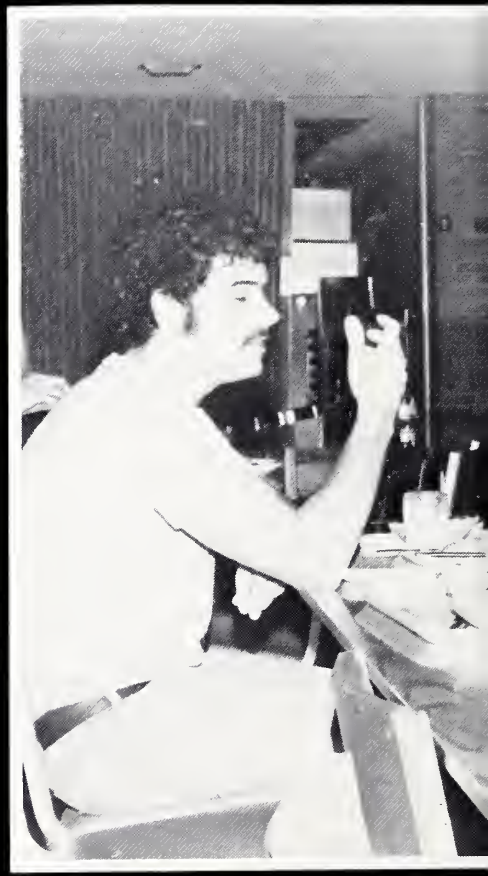
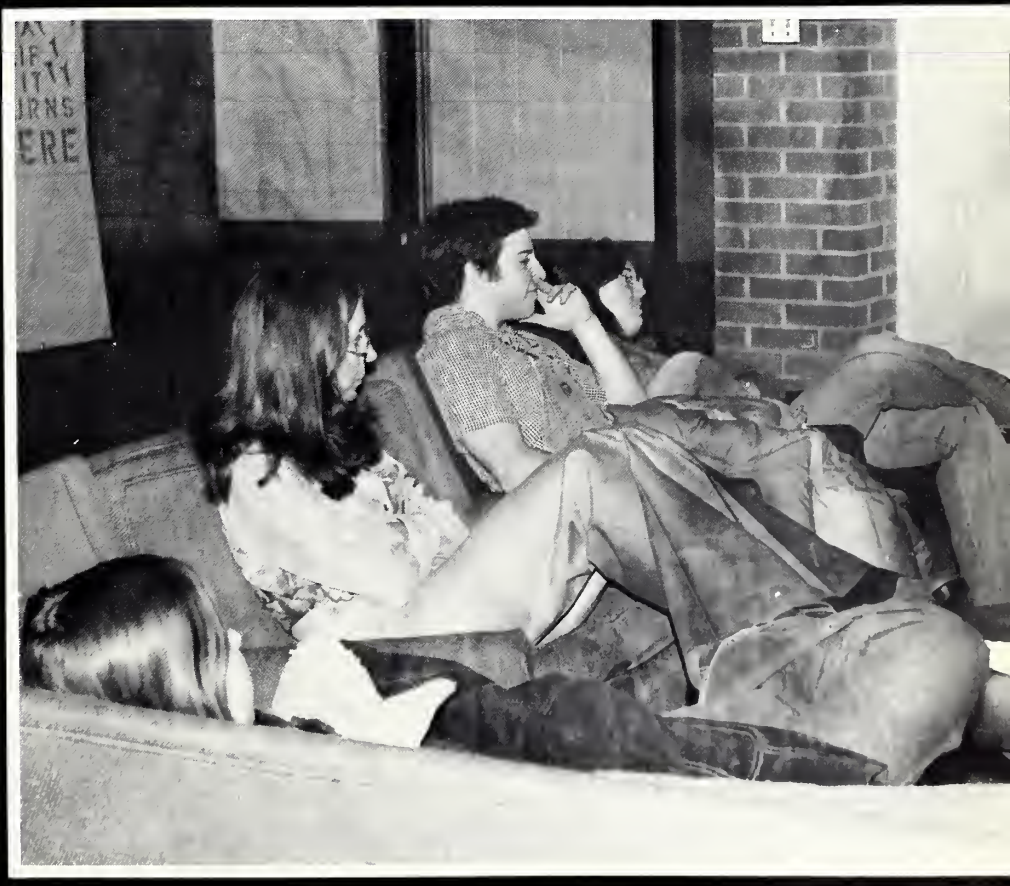
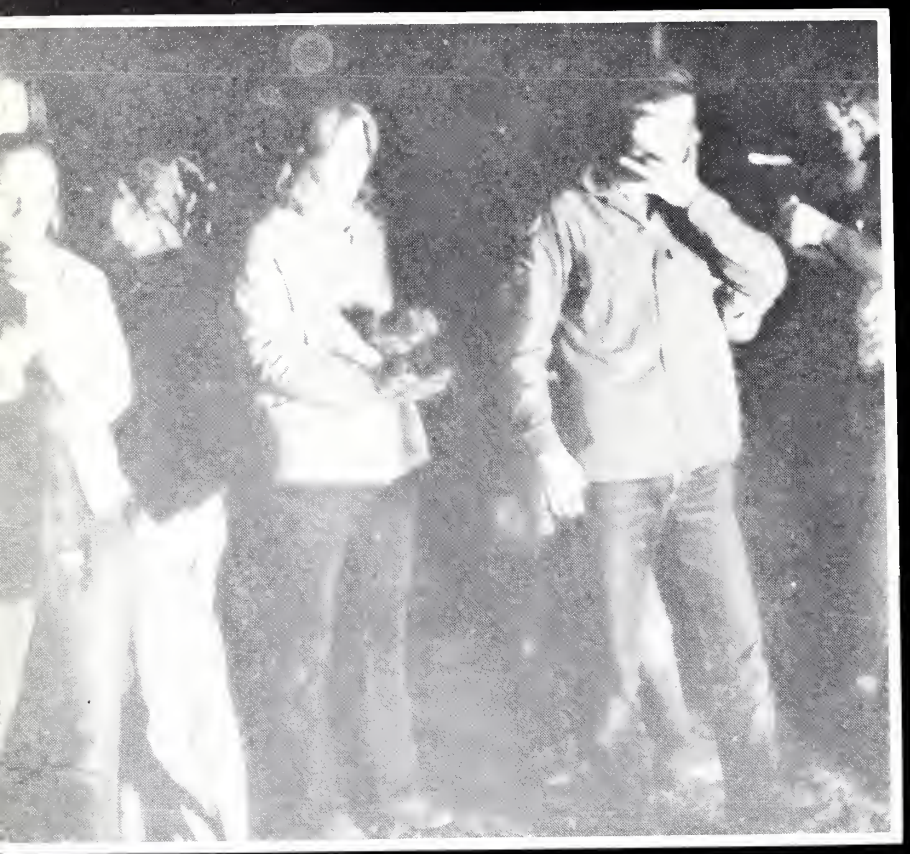
FROSH ORIENTATION





For many students, freshmen orientation was an introduction to a socially and academically different environment. Mandatory programmed assemblies conducted to inform all new students of the college's policies were well balanced by carefully planned social activities organized to acquaint the new student with his peers.





HOMECOMING

Warming the spirit of the Homecoming Weekend, festivities began with R.C.'s first fire-light ralley. "The Sting," the weekend movie, appropriately entitled the Homecoming game; as an enthusiastic crowd watched, the Regent kickers were defeated 3-2 in an exciting, well-played game. King Ed Sanders and Queen Cathy Warner reigned over the Homecoming Dance, the concluding event of a very exhausting weekend.

HALLOWEEN

Ghost, goblins, and bagmen controlled the spirits of the R.C. community as a group of creative students combined their talents and formed "The Ghost House." As these students converted Johnson Living Center to comply with the holiday theme, New Dorm's well-planned Masquerade Ball proved to be one of the best attended dances of the year.

DIG INTO MY

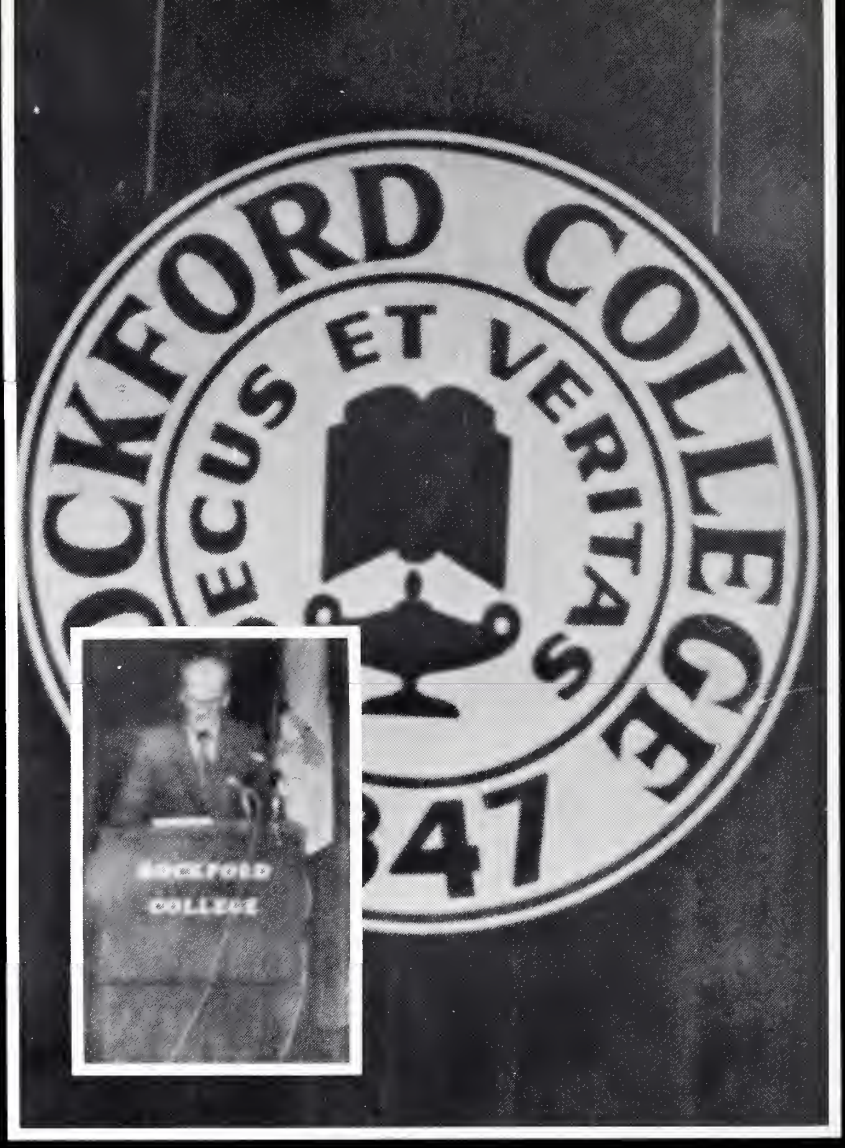
FORUM

In its fourth year of existence, the 1975-1976 forum series program concentrated on the American heritage. As it contained the spirit of the Bicentenial, the required lecture and discussion series was modified; large, more impersonal lecture groups with several panel leaders replaced the former system of small, more individual sessions with faculty directors.



FRENCH CLUB DINNER

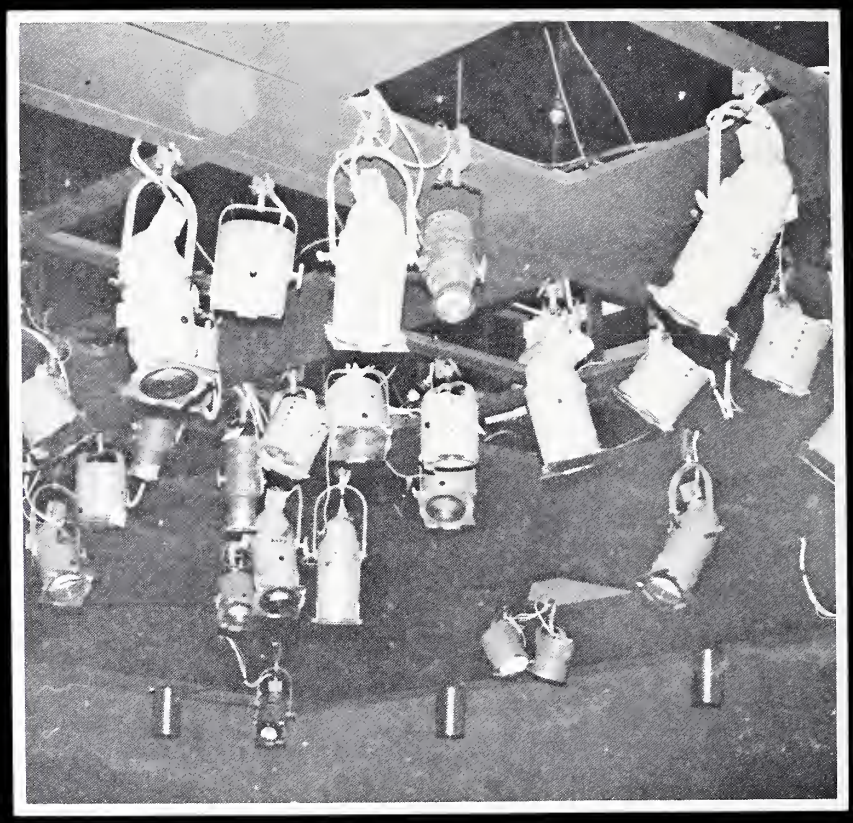
Continuing the college's tradition of international dinners, French Club volunteers sponsored "Un Diner Francais." Complete with can-can girls, crepes, and a specially prepared ice figurine, the dinner proved to be very entertaining.

CHRISTMAS

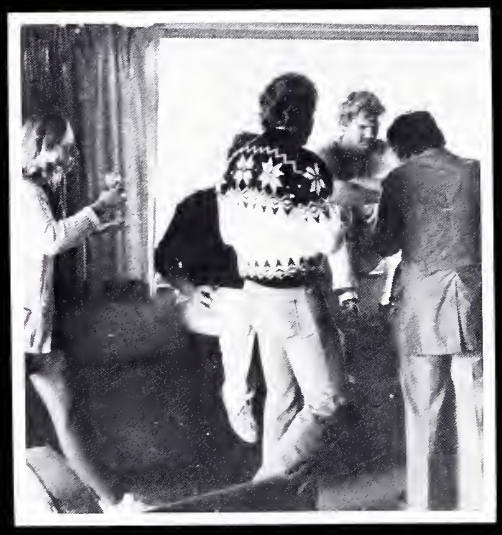
Shortly after their return from Thanksgiving break, R.C. students were surprised by the prompt "Hanging of the Greens." Through first semester finals, "the Greens," with the assistance of the annual wassail socials, Christmas Dance, caroling, Christman Dinner, midnight Christmas service, and the Cummings Complex Party, upheld the warmth of the holiday season.

THEATRE

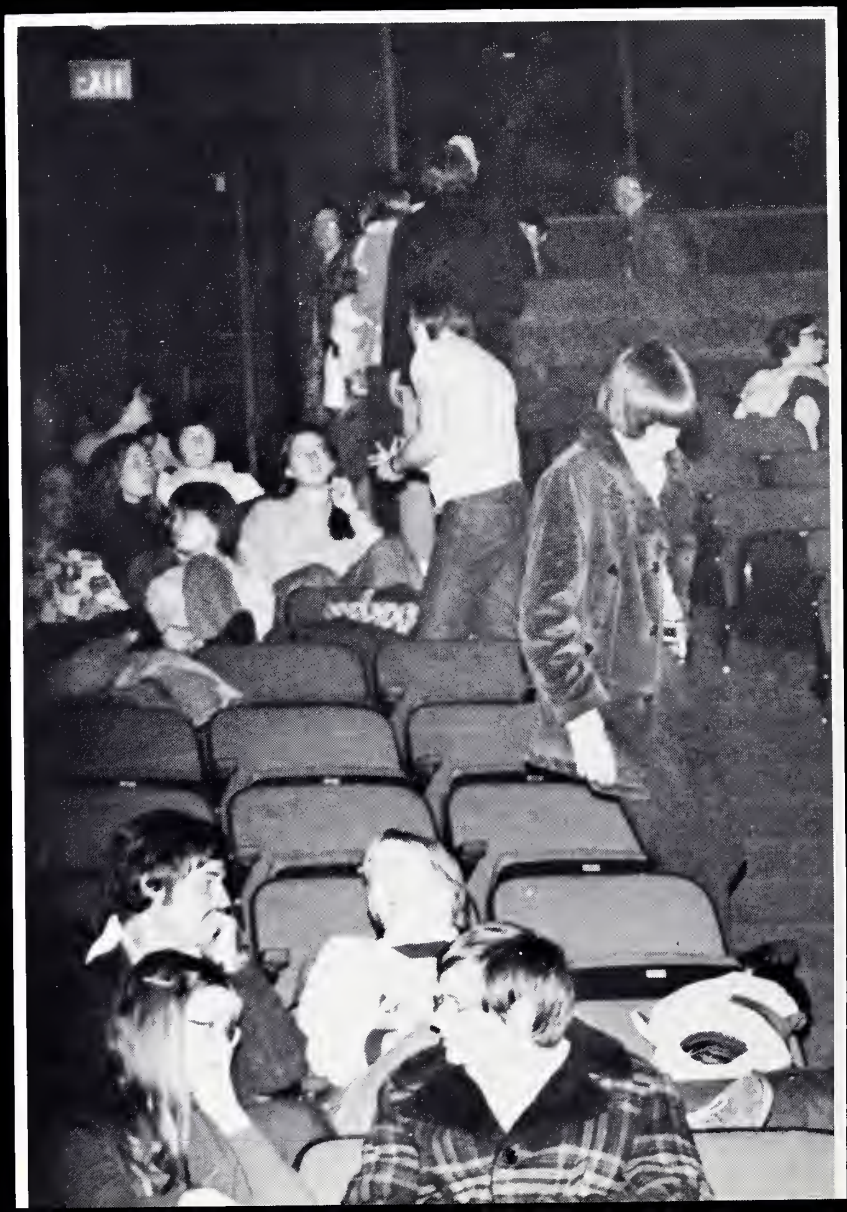
Exploring the field of entertainment, the college's Theatre Arts majors are a large part of the campus' cultural expansion program. Through special productions as "The Crucible," "The Glass Menagerie," and "Oklahoma," as well as Three Penney Theatre, the Theatre Arts Department enlarged its own dramatic scope while it provided enjoyment for the Rockford College community.



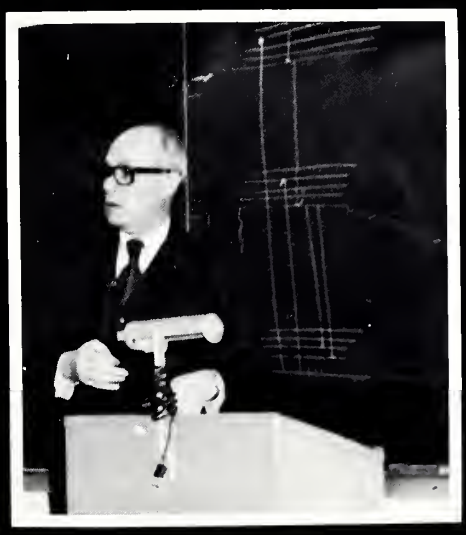
R. C. LIFE



Whether a student partakes in the excitement of atheletic competition, in the versatility of the college's cultural programs, in the intellectual expansion through a special lecture series, or in the customary social spheres of the community, he is sure to find adequate entertainment on the campus grounds.

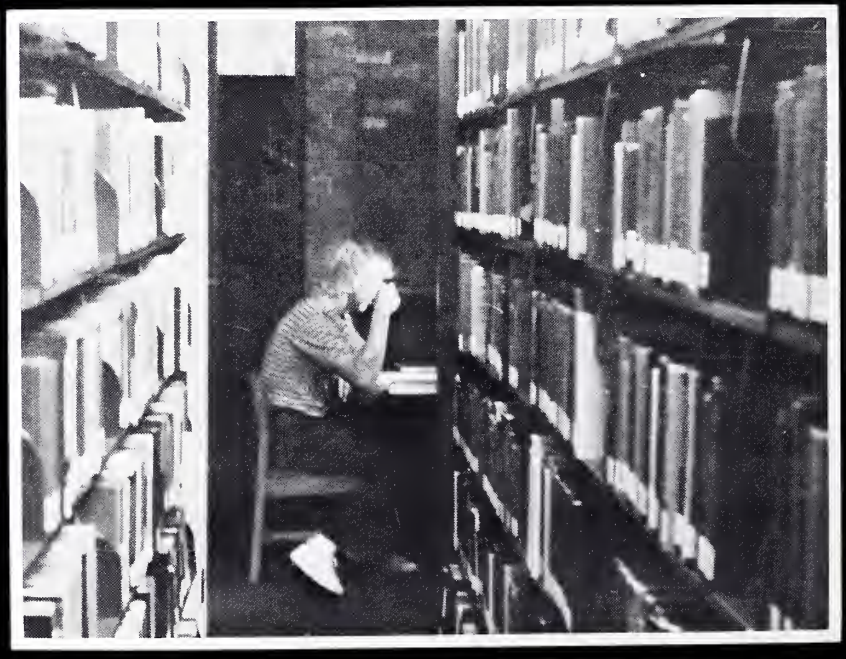


INTERIM



Serving as a three-week mini-course, this year's Interim, "Man at Work," offered Rockford students a large assortment of educational and social programs. Courses offering trips abroad, belly dancing, pre-professional internships, theatrical production, and dulcimer construction, to name a few, proved to be difficult choices for the R.C. student.

STUDIES



Academics are an important part of a student's college life. Exaggerated by its over-abundance of exams and term papers, "finals week" epitomizes one's semester gathering of knowledge. It is during this week that the R.C. student's social life is spent with his text books and "study buddy" packages in a remote corner of the Howard Colman Library.

CHAPEL

As the center of religious endeavor, Fisher Chapel sponsors annual activities such as an autumn trip to Dillon Farm and a midnight Christmas service. During the 1975 year, funds, donated by the weekly congregation and other concerned individuals were collected by the chapel's clergy. These funds were then transported to a local food drive.
